During this busy week, let's remember, "I can do all things through Christ who gives me strength." Philippians 4:13

Dear Families,

It has been a joy-filled week for me at school. It has been so much fun to see the students at work with the tools and equipment from The Mobile Fab Lab! It was also lovely to see the wonderful turnout for the tryouts for, "The Little Mermaid, Jr." We will be adding another club beginning in October for girls in grades 4-6. It's called, "Girls Empowered" and the activities are designed for fun and to build some very important skills. Please be sure to read the flyer.

I'm sorry for those of you who are still experiencing disruption or delays with the bus service. We are in touch with the school districts and bus companies, but I encourage you to continue to reach out directly and let them know the problems that you are experiencing. Things have already gotten a bit better as far as arrival time at school in the morning, but we continue to experience delays for a few buses at dismissal time. Now that routes are set and the initial back to school time is over, I will be taking data about arrival and pick up times so that we can share that as well.

A reminder that Kids Stuff Books or payments are due on Friday. Dismissal on the half day will run as usual with the exception of Centennial School District which is not providing transportation in the afternoon. CARES is available. If you have a Pre-K student who you are picking up and have older siblings in the school, we are happy to dismiss the older siblings at 11:55 with the Pre-K students on this day. Please let their teachers know.

On this memorial of St. John Chrysostom, let us remember, "God asks little, but He gives much. - Saint John Chrysostom

From the HSA

September 26th:

The First Home and School Meeting - Please mark September 26th at 7:00p.m. on your calendar and plan to attend the first HSA meeting of the year. In addition to HSA business, Dr. Mary Coakley has been invited to educate us all about anxiety in children. In the past several years, anxiety among children and adults has skyrocketed. Dr. Mary Coakley, a Clinical-Developmental Psychologist, will explain how anxiety shows up in children and will give parents practical tools and strategies to help their children manage their fears and increase their confidence. Topics to be addressed include:

- How to tell if your child's worries are "normal" or excessive
- What is happening "behind the scenes" in the brain when you are anxious
- How anxiety grows
- How to respond to your child's worries in a helpful way
- How to know if your child needs professional help

We hope to see you there!

September 29th: The "Sweet to Meet You" event for families with students in grades Pre-K, Kindergarten, and First Grade. See flyer below.
